

Community Bubs

Community Bubs is a philanthropically-funded program run by Family Life that supports families in the community to ensure babies thrive and develop in a safe and supportive environment.

Community Bubs is an outreach program which provides case management to parents/carers in their final trimester of pregnancy, and/or in the early stages following their child's birth.

Families can be supported by Community Bubs for a period of up to 9 months, where Community Bubs Practitioners can assist families with:

- Building parenting skills and confidence
- Understanding infant development
- Strengthening attachment with their baby
- Implementing family routines
- Creating linkages to their local community
- Strengthening family relationships
- Recognising their baby's cues and needs
- Advocacy and referrals to other services

Referral Criteria

Referrals can be taken for the Community Bubs from the last trimester of pregnancy, up until the baby is 6 months of age, for families residing in the Bayside Peninsula area.

Community Bubs is an inclusive program which works with a diverse range of families, taking into consideration collective and individual needs. Community Bubs welcomes referrals for parents and carers of all genders, abilities, religions and cultural backgrounds.

Referrals can be made via the Bayside Peninsula Orange Door on 1800 319 353. Referrals can also be made by contacting a Community Bubs Team Leader:
